ADVANCED HITTING MECHANICS CAMP WITH

WORLD RENOWN COACH

GERRY GLASCO

Glasco is the current hitting coach and recruiting coordinator for the Texas A&M Aggies. He is also a World Champion Head Coach, winning the National Pro Fastpitch Cowles cup in 2014 as Head Coach of the USSSA Pride. Prior to Texas A&M, he was the hitting instructor, recruiting coordinator, and associate coach for the Georgia Bulldogs for 6 years, putting them at the top of the SEC in offensive production. He is now repeating that feat with Texas A&M. This camp is for youth baseball and softball players and is not exclusive for fastpitch players. This is a one-time camp, and will fill up very quickly with players from KC, Tulsa, Springfield, and St. Louis. Coach Glasco will be assisted by Coach Ryan Taylor, Head Coach of the Demarini Aces, and myself, Travis Noel, general manager and lead hitting instructor at MVP Athletics. We are working to ensure that proper mechanics are being taught, based in science, and our local kids are getting seen.

IT DOESN'T MATTER WHAT YOUR CURRENT HITTING ABILITY IS, WE WILL GO THROUGH THE BASICS AND MAKE YOU BETTER, REGARDLESS OF SKILL LEVEL.
